epg.com - Smart Platform for Logistics

The Ehrhardt + Partner Group (EPG) is announcing a new and significantly simpler domain just in time for its 30th anniversary. The company has created a platform for all logistics supply solutions at www.epg.com.

With 14 locations, more than 500 employees worldwide, more than 1,500 warehouse projects and more than 60,000 LFS users, EPG is one of today's leading experts for logistics solutions. "Switching to an international and significantly simplified domain really reflects how our company has developed", says Dennis Kunz, Marketing Director at EPG. Strong internationalization and continuous growth have been the key features of the last 30 years. "Our new digital platform gives users around the world direct access to all the relevant information they need for logistics supply chain solutions. Customers will also benefit from our longstanding expertise in warehouse management". The LFS software suite as SES for logistics not only includes the LFS.wms Warehouse Management System, but the LFS.mfc Material Flow Controller and FLS.tms Transport Management System as well. Combined with our cloud and hardware offerings with personalized support and service, E+P provides a complete package for all logistics operations. "The new online platform is fully in line with our approach for a smart logistics world", says Dennis Kunz.

Go to www.epg.com to see the full range of solutions from EPG, including a personalized section for partners and information about our comprehensive service offerings for logistics hardware and software. EPG also provides further technical input for logistics expertise with technical papers, whitepapers, guides and videos.
