

Reducing the complexity of contract and billing management

All the services you have provided at a glance:
Contract and Billing (CnB) from EPG is a complete solution for logistics service providers

Are you billing all the services you have provided quickly and without missing anything? It is a real challenge in the vast sea of information, agreements and billing conditions. The certified Contract and Billing (CnB) system from the Ehrhardt Partner Group (EPG) can significantly increase efficiency and revenue thanks to smart contract management and supply-chain-wide recording of services – all conveniently delivered in a mobile app.

CnB from EPG is a complete solution for digital contract and billing management for all logistics services. From creating a contract to a continuous record of all services, contract assignment and automatic invoicing, CnB provides powerful modules for all your work and process steps in one system.

The main advantages: CnB from EPG ensures that all services under the agreed contracts are billed quickly and in full at the correct price. CnB also documents and reliably bills for any services that you provide beyond the original contract. Customers can then check their invoices conveniently on the customer web portal. Time-consuming changes to invoices and cancellations are therefore a thing of the past. As this shortens the checking process significantly, invoices are paid faster too.

Another advantage is flexibility. In addition to the option of integrating further systems for recording services, custom configurations can be created for billing models and you can check supplier invoices, as well as creating invoices for customers. It is also easy to connect third-party systems, such as warehouse management, transport management and workforce management, providing the necessary flexibility for integration into existing logistics processes. The result is that our customers can reduce the complexity within their ERP systems, as time-consuming and expensive changes to processes are no longer necessary.

Further information about contract and billing management using our Contract and Billing solution is provided in our new whitepaper "The Game-Changer for the Logistics Industry". You can download the PDF version free of charge from the EPG knowledge platform for logistics at www.epg.com/logistik-know-how.
